

14 Nov 2021	Publication:	Deccan Chronicle
PTI	Page No:	7

‘Judges should consider carrying out field visits’

New Delhi, Nov. 13: Union minister for law and justice Kiren Rijiju on Saturday stressed the importance of delivery of justice at people's doorsteps under alternative dispute resolution system and said that helping people get benefits of welfare schemes along with legal aid will ensure "total justice".

Underlining that public service is the common objective of the judiciary, government and the legislature, the minister said judges have also "understood" that justice can be delivered by going outside of the courtroom as well and appealed to them to consider carrying out field visits whenever possible so that the goal of delivering justice can be achieved more "effectively".

Launching "Citizen's Tele-Law Mobile App" at an event, he called on frontline paralegal workers and other functionaries to help people get benefits of welfare schemes of the government in addition to providing them with legal aid.

"This is very important. We need to work to ensure that people get total justice...There is a need to understand in perspective. There various government schemes. We are not doing paperwork in the name of legal aid. We have to suggest them to solve their legal problems along with the problems pertaining to their basic needs, electricity, water road. I believe this kind of service delivery is justice," he added.

Union minister for law and justice Kiren Rijiju felicitates a Tele-Law Frontline Functionary at the launch of the Citizens Tele-Law Mobile App in New Delhi on Saturday. Minister of state S.P. Singh Baghel is also seen. — PTI

Mr Rijiju said the e-interface platform, Tele Law, was developed under the Digital India scheme to strengthen the pre-litigation mechanism in the country.

"The goal of this platform is to achieve Sabka Prayas, Sabka Nyay," he said. Tele-Law leverages technology to connect the beneficiary with the lawyers in a panel to seek legal advice and consultation for early redressal of their grievance, according to the law ministry.

The minister announced the expansion of Tele-Law in 75,000 gram panchayats covering all states and union territories as a part of the 75 years of India's Independence celebrations.

He also appealed to the lawyers to join the Tele-Law movement and provide legal guidance and consultation as basic steps to legal aid services. — PTI

14 Nov 2021	Publication:	The Free Pre
Bureau	Page No:	5

Judges should consider carrying out field visits: Rijiju

NEW DELHI: Union Minister for Law and Justice Kiren Rijiju on Saturday stressed the importance of delivery of justice at people's doorsteps under alternative dispute resolution system and said that helping people get benefits of welfare schemes along with legal aid will ensure "total justice".

Underlining that public service is the common objective of the judiciary, government and the legislature, the minister said judges have also "understood" that justice can be delivered by going outside of the courtroom as well and appealed to them to consider carrying out field visits whenever possible so that the goal of delivering justice can be achieved more "effectively".

Launching 'Citizen's Tele-Law Mobile App' at an event, he called on frontline paralegal workers and other functionaries to help people get benefits of welfare schemes of the government in addition to providing them with legal aid.

"This is very important. We need to work to ensure that people get total justice...There is a need to understand in perspective. There are various government schemes. We are not doing paperwork in the name of legal aid. We have to suggest them to solve their legal problems along with the problems pertaining to their basic needs, electricity, water road. I believe this kind of service delivery is justice," he added. Rijiju said the e-interface platform, Tele Law, was developed under the Digital India scheme to strengthen the pre-litigation mechanism in the country.

"The goal of this platform is to achieve Sabka Prayas, Sabka Nyay," he said.

14 Nov 2021	Publication:	The Times of India
TNN	Page No:	20

Centre launches mobile app version of Tele-Law service

New Delhi: The government has decided to expand its Tele-Law service to 75,000 gram panchayats covering all states and Union territories this year, Union law minister Kiren Rijju said on Saturday while launching a mobile app for citizens that enables online consultation with panel lawyers.

The Tele-Law initiative of the Department of Justice, launched in 2017, is a free service for the poor and marginalised sections of the society. The downloadable app version of the service available on phones would help to rapidly expand its reach and cover the entire population where those eligible will continue to get free service. It has already helped more than 12 lakh beneficiaries, including people from SC/ST communities and women.

Rijju had earlier mentioned that the government is working towards taking the justice delivery system to the doorstep of the people. Rijju, who felicitated frontline Tele-Law workers assembled from across the country, said downloading the 'Citizens Tele-Law Mobile App' would optimise the citizen centric justice delivery mechanism.

The Tele-Law app is a first of its kind initiative wherein anyone can download the application and avail services of a lawyer, according to the law ministry. TNN

14 Nov 2021	Publication:	The Times of India [Bangalore]
Bureau	Page No:	14

Govt launches mobile app version of Tele-Law

New Delhi: The government has decided to expand its Tele-Law service to 75,000 gram panchayats covering all states and Union territories this year, law minister Kiren Rijju said on Saturday while launching a mobile app for citizens that enables online consultation with panel lawyers.

The Tele-Law initiative of the Department of Justice, launched in 2017, is a free service for the poor and marginalised sections of the society. The downloadable app version of the service available on phones would help to rapidly expand its reach and cover the entire population where those eligible will continue to get free service.

It has already helped more than 12 lakh beneficiaries, including people from SC/ST communities and women. Rijju had earlier mentioned that the government is working towards taking the justice delivery system to the doorstep of the people.

Rijju had earlier mentioned that the government is working towards taking the justice delivery system to the doorstep of people

Rijju, who felicitated frontline Tele-Law workers assembled here from across the country, said downloading the 'Citizens Tele-Law Mobile App' would optimize the citizen centric justice delivery mechanism.

The Tele-Law app is a first of its kind initiative wherein anyone can download the application and avail services of a lawyer, according to the law ministry. There will be options of availing the services in different languages that can help in reaching out to the remote corners of the country through a network of 14 lakh common service centres and para legal volunteers.

The Tele-Law initiative of the law ministry was launched with the goal of strengthening the pre-litigation mechanism and providing free legal aid to the poor and marginalised. The services are currently available in 51,434 Common Service Centres across 50,000 Gram Panchayats in 633 districts, the law ministry said. Through the Tele-Law, the government also provides tele-video conferencing facilities to connect the beneficiary with the panel lawyer. TNN

14 Nov 2021	Publication:	Dainik Jagran
Bureau	Page No:	14

न्यायाधीशों को जनता के बीच जाने का सरकार का सुझाव

नई दिल्ली, प्रेद: कानून मंत्री किरण रिजिजू ने लोगों के दरवाजे तक न्याय पहुंचाने की सरकार की इच्छा को प्रदर्शित किया है। कहा है कि न्यायाधीश कोर्ट से निकलकर जनता के बीच जाने पर विचार करें। इससे लोगों को कल्याणकारी योजनाओं के फायदे बेहतर तरीके से मिल सकेंगे। यह विवाद निपटारे की वैकल्पिक व्यवस्था के तहत होगा। सही मायनों में इससे संपूर्ण न्याय की अवधारणा पूरी होगी। सबका प्रयास-सबका न्याय का संकल्प पूरा होगा।

रिजिजू ने कहा, न्यायपालिका, कार्यपालिका और विधायिका का साझा उद्देश्य जनता की बेहतर तरीके से सेवा करना है। इसलिए न्यायाधीश कोर्ट से बाहर जनता के बीच जाकर समस्याओं और कल्याणकारी योजनाओं की स्थिति को देखने पर विचार करें। इससे लोगों को ज्यादा प्रभावी तरीके से न्याय मिल पाएगा। सिटीजंस टेली ला मोबाइल एप की लॉन्चिंग करते हुए कानून मंत्री ने विधिक कार्यों से जुड़े लोग आमजन को कानूनी मदद देने के साथ सरकार की कल्याणकारी योजनाओं का लाभ दिलाने में भी सक्रिय भूमिका निभाएं। योजनाओं को लागू करने के कानूनी प्रविधानों से आमजनों को अवगत कराएं और उनकी राह सरल करें। यह बहुत जरूरी है क्योंकि ऐसा करके हम संपूर्ण न्याय की अवधारणा पूरी करने में सहयोग दे सकते हैं।

14 Nov 2021	Publication:	Hindustan (Hindi)
Bureau	Page No:	1

14 Nov 2021	Publication:	Hindustan (Hindi)
Bureau	Page No:	15

टेली लॉ ऐप से सभी के लिए सुलभ होगा न्याय

नई दिल्ली | एजेंसी

केंद्रीय विधि एवं न्याय मंत्री किरेन रिजिजू ने शनिवार को 'टेली लॉ' नाम के मोबाइल ऐप की शुरुआत की, जिसका मकसद सभी को न्याय सुलभ कराना है। उन्होंने नागरिकों तक न्याय प्रणाली की पहुंच बढ़ाने पर भी जोर दिया।

लोकसेवा को न्यायपालिका, सरकार और विधायिका का साझा उद्देश्य बताते हुए रिजिजू ने कहा कि न्यायाधीश भी समझ रहे हैं कि अदालतों के बाहर भी इंसाफ दिया जा सकता है। उन्होंने न्यायाधीशों से अपील की कि जहां संभव हो क्षेत्र में दौरा करने पर विचार करें, ताकि न्याय देने का लक्ष्य

ज्यादा प्रभावी ढंग से हासिल किया जा सके। रिजिजू ने कहा कि 'टेली लॉ' का उद्देश्य सबका प्रयास, सबका न्याय हासिल करना है। उन्होंने आजादी के अमृत महोत्सव के दौरान आम लोगों को आत्मनिर्भर बनाने और उनके लिए न्याय सुलभ करने के लिए एकजुट होने का आह्वान किया। केंद्रीय मंत्री ने कहा, हमें यह सुनिश्चित करना होगा कि लोगों को पूरा न्याय मिले। कई सरकारी योजनाएं हैं। हम कानूनी सहायता के नाम पर कागजी काम नहीं कर रहे। हमें उनकी बुनियादी जरूरतों, बिजली, पानी, सड़क से संबंधित समस्याओं के साथ ही उनकी कानूनी समस्याओं का समाधान करने के लिए भी सुझाव देना होगा।